Incensed because a rich relative left him only a thin piece of land right in the center of large estate, an Egyptian has erected this two-room "bungalow" on his new property in Mandara, Egypt. His new home, in which he lives alone, is causing infinite trouble to his co-heirs who were willed the land surrounding it.

Eastern Standard Time Continues In New Castle

Daylight savings time will become effective in some parts of the state and nation Sunday morning, but New Castle, in accordance with a decision by City Council, will remain on Eastern Standard time this summer.

Councilmen decided that the vote of last fall, as cast at the regular election, should govern the situation here, and as the vote was strongly against adoption of daylight time, no action was taken to provide for fast time observance here.

In Ellwood City, where the vote was favorable, the Council decided that the borough would observe daylight time this summer.

In Youngstown and Cleveland, Eastern Standard time will be observed, while in Pittsburgh daylight time is to be followed.

The city departments are evidently determined to keep the Public Square spic and span during the coming summer months. Two brand new waste cans have been added to the east and west sections of the Diamond, so that trash may be deposited by visitors to the square instead of having it clutter up the street and lawns.

A new idea in trailers was being used by one young man in the downtown area early today. The youth was peddling along on his new bicycle, while attached to the rear of it was a coaster wagon being used to haul parcels and bundles.

In some sections of the county, Pa. News is told that the weather last night was so cold that ice formed on water that was left in pails standing out overnight.

Bubble gum, children's delight and parents' despair, has very noticeably returned to the current scene. It was being worn in both bubble and black-ring-around-the-neck style.

May Not Appropriate All Of Greek Aid Fund

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, April 26.—Rep. Taber (R) N. Y., disclosed today that congress may not appropriate this year the entire 400 million dollars requested by President Truman for his Greco-Turkish aid program.

The chairman of the house appropriations committee declared his group would decide later whether to furnish the entire amount before the anticipated July adjournment of congress. Under normal circumstances, congress would not convene again until January 1948.

Taber pointed out that the Greco-Turkish bill, which is awaiting house consideration following senate approval, is an authorization and that the actual funds must be provided by the house appropriations committee.

Otherwise, an amendment must be offered from the floor to add the sum to a pending appropriation bill or it must be included by the senate in a house appropriation measure.

There was no indication that the appropriations committee would refuse to provide the funds authorized.

New Reprisal Against British In Palestine

Chief Of Haifa's Criminal Investigation Division Is Assassinated

(BULLETIN)
JERUSALEM, April 26.—(INS)—The chief of Haifa's Criminal Investigation Division was shot and killed in the port city today in what was believed to be a renewal of the Jewish underground's reprisal campaign against the British.

The victim, A. E. Conquest, was attacked while driving in an automobile.

Shoot Into Car
Two armed Jews followed the car in a taxi and as it drew alongside fired at Conquest. He was hit twice in the stomach and died soon afterward.

The attackers took ran into a traffic island and the occupants, clad in khaki shorts and shirts, escaped.

The shooting followed yesterday's blasting of the Saronia police station at Tel Aviv in which four British policemen were killed and six others were injured.

Chinese Execute Officer For 'Rape Of Nanking' Back In 1937

NANKING, April 26.—(INS)—Lt. Gen. Hsiao Tani, commander of the Japanese Army's Sixth Imperial division during the incredible "rape of Nanking" in 1937, was executed at noon today on a hillside outside the walls of China's capital city.

A Chinese soldier placed a German luger pistol at the back of the 65-year-old Japanese officer's head and sent a bullet crashing through his brain. Two other Chinese soldiers held the arms of the condemned general.

Hundreds of Spectators
Rain did not prevent hundreds of Chinese civilian spectators from witnessing the execution. Among these witnesses were many Chinese women who had been mistreated by Tani's troops after his division captured Nanking.

Tani, a small, fat man, was dragged resisting from a truck to the hillside spot where the execution was carried out.

After the Chinese executioner delivered the coup de grace, the Japanese general's body was buried on the spot without ceremony.

General Tani was convicted last February by a Chinese War Crimes Tribunal. He was found guilty of responsibility for the deaths of thousands of persons who were wantonly slain or raped in Nanking.

Heavy Frost Is Reported Today

Damage To Fruit Crop Will Be Light, It Is Believed, As Blossoms Are Not Out

MERCURY FALLS BELOW FREEZING
Although the temperature dipped sharply during the early hours of the morning to a point below the freezing mark, and heavy frosts were noted, it is believed the damage to fruit crops will be light.

County Agent L. C. Dayton stated that he had not made any examination of the situation as yet, but it was his belief that the fruit buds had not advanced far enough to be seriously damaged.

There might be some damage to the peach crop because peaches are rather delicate, but it was his conviction that the apple crop is safe.

The recordings at the U. S. weather observing station showed a low of 29 degrees, but it was a few degrees lower than that in some outlying sections of the county.

The sudden drop followed a day-long rain, and early risers this morning noted that the roofs were coated with white.

Wallace Leaves Paris On Return Flight To U. S.

PARIS, April 26.—(INS)—Henry A. Wallace took off from Orly Field near Paris at 11:05 a. m. today, 5:05 a. m. EST, on a flight to the United States where he is expected to continue his attacks on President Truman's proposed foreign program.

The former vice-president will launch a coast-to-coast speaking tour next week, during which he will make at least one nation-wide broadcast.

Behind him, Wallace had left violent controversy in England, Sweden and France where he had voiced his disfavor of the proposed U. S. "Stop Communism" policy.

Conciliators Persist
Despite the AT&T's refusal to compromise on the pay issue, government conciliators persisted in their efforts to find a way out of the stalemate.

The Labor Department set up union-management conferences today involving AT&T's Long Lines division and the Southwest Bell Telephone Company, a key unit in the Bell network. A parley also was planned covering Western Union chapter today.

The Carnegie Tech chapter of Sigma Nu will perform the initiation of 65 active members and many alumni at the Westminster college bing this afternoon. Sigma Nu will bring Westminster's total to three national fraternities for men. The other two being Sigma Phi Epsilon and Alpha Sigma Phi.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—(INS)—A little Kentucky lumber company was solidly in the center of the courtroom spotlight today at the close of the first-week of the May-Garrison conspiracy trial.

The prosecution contends that the company served as a blind for payments by contractors Henry and Murray Garrison to ex-Congressman Andrew J. May, former chair-

Senate Nearing First Vote Test On Labor Bill

Vote On Amendment May Come On Monday—May Reflect Ultimate Outcome

SENATORS IVES AND TAFT IN BATTLE

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, April 26.—The Senate moved toward its first test on labor legislation today with undertones of the 1948 GOP presidential race showing up in initial debate.

Sen. Ives (R) N. Y.—who came to the Senate with the backing of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey—and Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, Dewey's prospective 1948 rival, squared off in a vigorous battle.

Taft backed the amendment on which the first labor bill test will come—a measure to outlaw "coercion" of employees by unions to force them to join up.

Ives opposed the amendment as "definitely anti-labor." He said it could be misused and could be interpreted in a manner that would virtually keep a union member from soliciting the membership of another worker.

May Vote On Monday
Observers thought it was significant that Ives referred repeatedly to the experience of New York State with labor laws.

Leaders hoped for a vote Monday on the amendment.

Majority Whip Wherry (R) Neb. said he believes the outcome will be a pretty accurate indication of how far the Senate will go in "tightening" the bill which the labor committee—overriding chairman Taft—watered down by a 7 to 6 vote.

Other senators said the vote would be a test also for the Taft leadership on domestic affairs—and of Ives' success in challenging Taft on a major issue.

At the same time, Taft prepared to discuss the labor bill strategy with his policy committee at its regular meeting today.

U. S. Prepares To Establish Chinese Navy

WASHINGTON, April 26.—(INS)—President Truman took official action today authorizing the United States Navy to aid in the equipping and training of personnel in the creation of a Chinese navy.

Mr. Truman signed an executive order authorizing the navy to give China an unannounced number of naval vessels and floating dry docks, as well as to assign a detail of officers and men to help train Chinese naval personnel to man the vessels.

The president's action ordered the navy "to transfer to the Republic of China without compensation the said vessels, craft and floating dry docks."

To Train Personnel
"To repair, outfit and equip the vessels . . . and to transfer to the Republic of China the necessary personnel for the operation and maintenance of the vessels and craft so transferred all on the basis of cash reimbursement of the cost thereof by the Republic of China."

"To train personnel for the operation of such vessels . . . 100 officers and 200 enlisted men of the United States Navy or Marine Corps to assist the Republic of China in naval matters."

Mr. Truman acted under Public Law 512 of July 16, 1946, which permits the president to transfer to the Republic of China up to 271 war ships.

Conservatives
WIN IN JAPAN
TOKYO, April 26.—(INS)—Japan's Social Democrats won a scant plurality in the House of Representatives election today and their party leader, Tetsu Katayama, declared he was going to "demand a place for his party" in the new cabinet.

Although the Social Democrats gained a plurality of four seats over Premier Shigeru Yoshida's Liberals, the Conservative parties retained the majority which was almost evenly split between the Liberals and the Democrats.

The Social Democrats, who had 95 seats in the last diet (parliament), won 140 seats in this election.

The Liberals declined from 148 seats in the last diet to 136.

The Democrats won 125 seats, whereas their predecessors, the dissolved Progressive party, had 111.

Charge Soviet Blocked Agreement Deliberately

VIENNA, April 26.—(INS)—High U. S. officials in Austria charged today that Soviet fear of the Greek-Turkish aid program made them deliberately block an Austrian agreement at the Moscow conference.

The Russians were said to want maximum military strength in Austria while they watched suspiciously developments in the eastern Mediterranean.

The Soviets' tactics also were said to have been inspired by their desire for a continued flow of most Austrian goods and raw materials.

Russia's "take" of oil from the rich Zistersdorf fields, for example, would be cut sharply as soon as the Austrian peace was settled.

Could Have Made Treaty
As these charges were made, Gen. Mark W. Clark bluntly stated that the deputies could have completed a treaty in less than four hours if the Russians had agreed to a definition of German assets.

He curtly observed that Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov refused to even discuss compromises that might sweep aside this stumbling block.

Released U. S. Officers Tell Of Being Tried

Two Officers Held By Chinese Communists Tried By Red Military Tribunal

By SEYMOUR TOPPING
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
NANKING, April 26.—Two American officers who were held captive by Chinese communists told a news conference in Nanking today that they had been tried by a red military tribunal which found them guilty of "reconnoitering communist positions for the nationalist government."

The two officers are Maj. Robert Rigg of Chicago and Capt. John Collins of Gallatin, Ala.

They were returned by plane to Nanking yesterday, 28 hours after their release by the communists.

The officers confirmed an International News Service dispatch of April 14 reporting their trial and their subsequent grant of freedom by "communist clemency."

Threatened With Torture
They both disclosed that during the trial sessions lasting between six and nine hours they were threatened with torture and called "liars" repeatedly in reply to their denials that they were "international spies."

Maj. Rigg explained to newsmen that the original purpose of their visit to the scenes of fighting between nationalists and communists near Changchun was to gain information on the extent of the communist threat against Changchun.

They also reported that they were haggard after their long period of confinement, which began with their capture March 1 by forward elements of communist troops.

President Heads Large Crowd In Return Greetings

Secretary Marshall Lands At Washington Airport At 10:40 A. M. Today

WILL MAKE REPORT TO NATION MONDAY

By JOHN A. REICHMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, April 26.—Secretary of State Marshall returned to Washington from Moscow today and declared he had worked for the best interests of the United States and "the whole world, so that we may all live in peace and without fear."

President Truman personally greeted his chief cabinet officer as Marshall returned from the Big Four foreign ministers' conference, stalemated in its efforts to work out peace treaties for Germany and Austria.

Dramatic Welcome
The president's welcome to Marshall was broadcast and was heard by the thousands of Washingtonians massed to give a tumultuously dramatic welcome to the secretary.

The chief executive declared he was highly pleased with Marshall's efforts toward establishing a pattern for lasting peace. The president added:

"I know that when you report to the people they will be pleased too."

Marshall, smiling broadly, said that he was "more and more favorably impressed by the United States all the time."

Lands At 10:40 A. M.
The secretary of state landed at Washington National Airport at 10:40 a. m. EST.

A dramatic greeting awaited the wartime chief of staff, who became secretary of state following his long postwar mission to China.

The runways were banked with men, women and children who cheered mightily as the secretary's huge DC-4 settled to earth.

A military band played and an honor guard of MPs snapped to attention.

The president hastened toward Marshall as the secretary left the plane and the two men shook hands warmly.

Happy To Be Back
After being greeted by Mr. Truman, Marshall said: "I'm very happy to be back. I'm (Continued on Page Two)

"Unaccustomed as I am to public speaking" is the way the tring speaker starts his stuff. And he promptly proves his point to satisfaction and usually those words are quite enough. But he rants and raves an hour, maybe longer, till the guests begin to drop like frosted vines, but the speaker keeps on going like a windmill, he should have stopped a half dozen times. Oh, could there be a law for public speakers who haven't anything northwile to say, a law to set them down among the dishes—the weather's back at 61 today.

Washington Calling

By Marquis Childs

See Politics In Labor Bill Moves

WASHINGTON, April 26—The same coalition of Republicans and southern Democrats that produced the destructive Hartley Bill in the House is working in the Senate to "strengthen" the omnibus labor bill which came out of Sen. Robert A. Taft's committee.

Taft lost his fight in committee to include more drastic provisions in his bill. But he is confident—and with good reason—that he will win on the floor after ten days or two weeks of oratory on the "labor problem."

He can count on the votes of about 12 southerners who want to go all the way in curbing labor's power. With the exception of the rebels who would not go along in committee he will have most of his own Republicans at his side.

Will Have Added Provisions
The measure which finally comes out of the Senate will not be as vicious as the Hartley bill. But it will contain virtually all the provisions stricken out in committee. This means it will contain a ban on industry-wide bargaining, and the restrictions on the closed shop will go further than those in the committee print.

The Hartley bill is not merely anti-labor. It is anti-industry—anti-everything. A punitive measure it would smash the present pattern of collective bargaining. What is essential and what is useful in the present system would be thrown out along with what is bad. It is an invitation to anarchy.

A cure by law for the labor troubles of the past can go only just so far. Then you come to a point where the cure is worse by far than the disease. In Rep. Hartley's home state of New Jersey, a Republican legislature, at the behest of Republican Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll, passed a law to prevent the telephone strike. It did not stop New Jersey Telephone Workers from walking off their jobs when their national union called them out.

Politics Intrudes
Again and again, politics intrudes in the labor debates. Sen. Taft put it more or less bluntly when he told the Republican conference that the omnibus bill would be sent to President Truman for his signature or his veto. A veto, Taft told the conference, would certainly boom against the President.

Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, one of the Republican rebels who led the anti-Taft combination in committee, could not let this pass. He got the floor to say:

"Well, if that is the opinion of the Senator from Ohio, all I can say is that I think he needs some lessons in boomerang throwing."

The political strategy of the Republican majority is certainly dubious. Rejecting a bill loaded at both ends and in the middle, the President can wait a powerful veto message. He can point out quite properly the moderate steps he has publicly advocated.

Substitute Strategy
On the political level a substitute Republican strategy was put forward that would seem to be far more effective. This was to wrap up in separate packages the various labor proposals. Then the stoniest measure would be sent to the White House first. If the President vetoed that one, another package of somewhat milder character would reach him. In this way he would be on record in unmistakable fashion.

Playing politics with labor legislation is a dangerous business. It can cut several different ways. There is evidence that the warring factors of labor may at last come together, having finally awakened to what restrictive legislation can mean in terms of upheaval and chaos.

Moderate Legislation
Opinion polls have shown that a majority of Americans are for moderate legislation ending such abuses as the jurisdictional strike and coercing inequities in present laws. The polls show that even a majority of union members favor such changes.

There is a reasonable, constructive way to set the country on the road to industrial peace. Let these moderate changes be enacted into law. (Continued on Next Page)

LONDON—Harold L. Stassen, candidate for the Republican nomination for the presidency: "My rule is not to discuss American foreign policy while abroad."

WASHINGTON—John W. This is in cutting the high cost of government itself..."

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PENT-UP ANGER ISN'T GOOD

Many a mother spends hours and hours a day being mad at the youngster. Usually the reason is that she has not worked out an effective mode of controlling him. By all means she should find a way to settle matters and shut up, and be able to be happy with the child.

A mother writes: "I have three children—two boys 6 and 7, and a girl 9. The boys mind me quite well but their sister talks back and is always arguing when I ask her to do anything at all, like making her bed. Last night she was very sassy when we had company and I finally sent her to bed. But then it happens again next time. What is a good punishment for her?"

I have spanked her and slapped her face (which I dislike to do) but I do not always control myself. "My husband insists I should punish the children when they are naughty to me and he'll punish them when they are naughty to him but I feel he should back me up and if he is there at the time he should punish them."

"I am the type that usually gives in rather than have an argument, but I do lose my temper."

When Child Disobeys
Virtually, here was my answer. When your child disobeys you, you should discipline him yourself and not expect Daddy to do it. Other wise, you weaken your control over your children. Of course, the child should know each parent has the moral support of the other in any discipline problem.

Your trouble is that you talk and wait and argue until you and that girl get all worked up and angry, when you are unfit to punish and (Continued on Next Page)

SYPHILIS
Syphilis is a disease which affects many of our people.

It has been estimated that two per cent of our young people who were examined in the selective service were found to have syphilis.

Some of them did not know that they had it. They had never had any signs of it and were very much surprised to find but about it.

Sometimes a person who gets syphilis has a lot of trouble and is very sick from the start.

Another person may have very slight symptoms or none at all. The disease may be very mild and never cause any trouble. It may develop years later and cause blindness, insanity or some other disabling condition.

Blood tests are very valuable in finding out whether a person has the disease or not.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

A few days ago... we the people of New Castle and surrounding community... had a pleasant experience... perhaps one of the most pleasant experiences that we have had in many seasons... The Metropolitan Concert Guild can put themselves on the back... the masterful performance of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra and the brilliant work of Adrian Fisher brought the 1946-1947 Guild season to a wonderful close.

Which goes to show... with the proper support... we can have here in New Castle a splendid concert season... The past few days have given those who attended Tuesday's performance a chance to collect their best words and pass them around to, shall we say, doubting Thomases.

There are some people who voice around that they think we should have fine art programs... but they never support any attempt to bring such programs... surely no one can truthfully say that a finer evening's entertainment could be found than was presented here last Tuesday.

To insure such performances in the 1947-1948 Guild season... it will be necessary that everyone who enjoyed the triumphal close this season purchase a ticket for the coming season. This can be done now all one needs to do is contact Mrs. Lester McClelland... phone 4835... many season tickets have been sold... but as you know the Cathedral auditorium is a large place and there are many choice seats... We suggest that you order your season ticket now.

Before we pass along to another subject... let's stop a moment and say a word or two to the President of the Metropolitan Concert Guild... L. J. Lewis. There's a chap who really gives of his time and energy day and night... it's no easy chore planning a concert series... and then following up to see that enough season tickets are sold to insure no deficit. "L. J." as he is affectionately called by associates deserves more than a pat on the back... he needs to be embraced by the arms of all music lovers... Yes old top... your work is appreciated... cherrio.

The World and the Mud Puddles

NAMBY-PAMBY REPUBLICANS

I have had the idea right along that all enthusiastic New Dealers were Communists and I think time will attest to that fact. The people elected a Republican Congress last November. President Truman sends to Senate the appointment of Mr. Lillenthal to occupy the position of chairman of the board whose duty it will be to supervise, particularly, the distribution of atomic energy; an appointment that which no more enthusiastic New Dealer could hope to acquire and about thirty Republicans fall all over themselves vying for him, among whom was Mr. Vandenberg, mentioned frequently as a possible Republican candidate for the Presidency in 1948!

As I understand it, among other reasons held by the voters who voted for this change in the composition of the Congress of the United States, was the opposition to that part of the electorate known as New Dealers, particularly, that part of the electorate picked out by F. D. R. to occupy the chief offices in his administration. F. D. R. had picked Mr. Lillenthal to head one of the first Big Bureaus created—the TVA, and Mr. Lillenthal has been a very enthusiastic New Dealer.

Philosophy For Case
In this particular situation, I should have thought the Republicans would have immediately adopted the philosophy of the Irishman who visited the Dennybrook Fair. He was carrying a shillalah, the customary weapon of a pugmistic Irishman, and his philosophy was summed up in the words: "If you see a head, hit it." I had not the slightest idea that any of these Republicans would confirm the appointment of a New Dealer and, particularly, to head such an important commission as the handling of atomic energy—the one war asset individually owned at the present time by the United States of America and the complete knowledge of which Russia is determined to acquire.

It seems that the Republican Party could be counted on to deal in a namby-pamby fashion on such questions. Mr. Lillenthal was accused of being a Communist at heart and whether true or false, the Republican Senate should have attacked the appointment by the President of a man against whom such an accusation could have been made. There must be in this nation upstanding Americans who have no use for Russia or any of her ideas, just as able, if not more so, to handle the development and distribution of atomic energy as Mr. Lillenthal.

It was a good place to use the Irishman's shillalah.

Then the president philosophized a bit on the whys and wherefores of a hobo.

"A man becomes a hobo because he hasn't seen or doesn't know of the finer things of life. We show him to museums and art galleries. We show him how nice a home can be and an honest living."

There was much more of the same sort of thing, but, instead of inspiring me, it made me sad.

I hate to see the hobo disappear from the American scene.

Because I, too, am a hobo at heart.

To me hoboes have always been the personification of the universal human desire to get as much as possible out of life without working.

PARTING REMARKS

Question: What reply should be made to: "I am very pleased to have met you?"

Answer: "Thank you. It was nice meeting you."

Question: Is it true that "My dear Mrs. Smith" is considered more formal than "Dear Mrs. Smith?"

Answer: Yes. In America, "My dear Mrs. Smith" is considered more formal than the usual "Dear Mrs. Smith." In England, this rule is reversed, "Dear Mrs. Smith" being the more formal of the two.

Question: In a public dining room when a man stops at a table and the table rise if there are women also seated at the table?

Answer: It is obligatory for the men to rise whether the table visitor is a man or a woman if there are women at the table. Of course, they should rise for a woman visitor even though there are no women at the table.

Question: Please tell me who supplies the silver flatware... the bride or her family?

Answer: Lucky is the bride who receives her silver as a gift. Sometimes this comes from her family, sometimes from her fiancé's family and sometimes from her fiancé himself. Frequently it does not come from anyone. She must either supply it herself or do without.

Question: Recently in a restaurant I saw a woman help a man put on his overcoat. Since he was a young man not incapacitated in any way, I wondered if this could be correct.

Answer: It was not correct. A man should not allow a woman to do him this service even if she offers. It is correct only in cases in which a man needs help, when he is physically unable to put on his own coat unassisted.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

May Recall MacArthur To Address Congress
Famous General May Return For 30 Days
Political Strategy Involved On Labor

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON, April 26—There is growing sentiment in Congress toward bringing about the return of Gen. Douglas MacArthur to the United States and it now appears probable that the Supreme Allied Commander in Japan will be home before July 1.

Rep. James E. Van Zandt (R), Pennsylvania, congressional spokesman for the powerful Veterans of Foreign Wars, recently introduced a resolution requesting the president, in the name of the American people, to order MacArthur home for at least 30 days.

Van Zandt plans to arrange for MacArthur to address a joint session of Congress. Since the target date for adjournment of the 80th Congress is July 1, and since support of the resolution is mounting, there are strong indications that "Mac" will be in Washington before that date.

The five-star general has not set foot on his native soil for nearly a decade. And Van Zandt claims that his return "will be welcomed by an overwhelming majority of the American people."

GOVERNMENT LABOR EXPERTS were tremendously encouraged by General Motors' offer and the CIO Electrical Workers' acceptance of a 15-cent an hour wage hike.

The number of workers involved was small, but the company making the settlement is one of the industrial leaders in wage bargaining.

Federal officials do not believe GM would have made the offer without advance consultation with "Big Steel" and other industrial pacifiers.

They believe the settlement augurs well for peaceful agreements with the CIO Auto Workers and steelworkers. Few labor experts in the capital believe that Walter Reuther can risk another long strike at GM in view of his shaky status as UAW president.

Moreover, CIO Chief Philip Murray wants to avoid a steel tie-up at all costs with Congress looking over labor's shoulder and threatening drastic legislation.

SOME GOVERNMENT LABOR EXPERTS believe the National Federation of Telephone Workers made a serious mistake in calling the strike. They say the action may prove very damaging to an up-and-coming organization which is not yet well enough established financially to include in big industrial conflicts.

NFTW's national treasury was described as "amazingly low" when it called 300,000 workers off their jobs in a test of strength with the gigantic A. T. & T.

Moreover, federal experts say that NFTW still is a rather loosely knit federation of autonomous unions and is not solid enough for industrial warfare.

The dispute with A. T. & T. began at a time when NFTW was trying to transform itself into a strongly centralized organization known as the Communication Workers of America.

This effort had to be suspended.

SOMEBODY SEEMS DUE to get outsmarted in the Capitol Hill decision to put all the labor legislation eggs in one basket for delivery to the White House.

This move hurts the chances of getting a single piece of labor legislation into law during this session of Congress.

Political strategy is involved. Poes of restrictive legislation would like to see the legislative basket contain an egg or two that President Truman won't accept, and have the whole thing vetoed.

On the other hand, some legislators who want to put some pretty strong laws over labor appear to hope that the president will accept some provisions he doesn't favor in order to get those he wants.

Underlying the situation is preparation for passing the back back and forth if the president vetoes the omnibus bill. Some Republicans figure it will be helpful in 1948 if they can point to Democrats as responsible for lack of labor reform.

In View Of The News

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

The Big Four Council of Foreign Ministers in Moscow has broken up without agreement upon the salient issues of the day.

It has disbanded to meet again in November to decide then, if ever, a satisfactory solution can be reached in pushing through to enduring permanence the world peace that was so bitterly fought for, the world understanding among nations that has been so long sought.

The Moscow conference cannot be looked upon as a success in its achievements, for the lack of these was emphasized by Secretary of State Marshall in his closing statement.

Far from Unproductive
But as to the aspect of presenting the American viewpoint to the world, the session was far from unproductive.

General George Catlett Marshall went to the Hall of Aviation Industry and to the Kremlin in Moscow entirely determined upon two objectives.

The first was to bring the four victorious Allied powers into agreement upon a treaty of alliance that would last for 40 years at least, and whose chief aim would be to prevent Germany from arising from her misty wreckage to a possible position of aggression and European dominance.

For the present, his efforts in this sphere have failed.

Soviet refusal to retreat from the exorbitant demand of ten billion dollars in reparations from a nation that cannot produce enough for its own sustenance defeated this primary aim.

But against this setback—and perhaps of even greater advantage in the future unfolding history of a world in turmoil—the United States Herald.

'Pied Piper' Play For Children Seen

Closing Play Of Children's Play
Series Presented Friday
Evening

Fourth and closing play of the children's play series by the Grace Price Productions, "The Pied Piper of Hamelin" met with an enthusiastic reception in the senior high school auditorium Friday evening. A crowd of about 800 children and adults viewed the play.

A dramatization of Browning's famous poem, the adaptation for the stage by Madge Miller, was acted with a zest by a cast with John Johns as the Pied Piper that made it perhaps the "best yet" of the Grace Price productions presented here.

It had more "adult appeal" than the plays earlier in the season. Perhaps, as Marjorie Davis, who took the part of Madame Dekker suggested, because of the moral it points.

The play owed much of its appeal and effectiveness to the scenery depicting the Public Square of Hamelin Town designed by London Displays. Two, such details as the Piper's music and the march of the rats across the stage contributed much to the presentation.

Characterizations included L. Rader as Dirk, the ward of Hamelin, Marian McClain as Miss Tilli, the seamstress, Marion Beardmore as Madame Holst, Sally Kettler as Anna Dekker, Eugene Kline as Jan Dekker, Walter Robbins as Cornelius Holst, and Albert Kalson as Hendrik Holst.

Local children, Sally Marquis, Gretchen Mackey, Jo Ann and S. D. Pearson, Dal Matthews, and Jay Rudolph, appeared with the cast as town's children.

Cub scouts of dens of the Walmo troop, in uniform, acted as ushers. The plays were sponsored here by the Federation Juniors.

Endorse Measure Imposing $5 Tax On Margarine Sale

HARRISBURG, April 26.—(INS)—Enactment of legislation which would impose a $5 retail tax for the sale of Oleomargarine was announced today by the Pennsylvania State Council of Farm Organizations.

In letters to assemblymen, the council endorsed the measure sponsored by Sen. Weldon B. Heyburn (R) Delaware.

The council said: "When the consumer purchases butter he is interested to know that it is butter. When he purchases Oleo he is entitled to know it is Oleo. The Heyburn bill assures the consumer public of this knowledge by prohibiting sale of colored Oleo and by causing Oleo to be sold as such."

"The $5 fee is a modest fee to be paid by those who sell for profit. Compare this with the maximum fees on milk dealers at $5000."

law. Along with this, let Congress take a positive step to show that the desire is to work toward a decent goal.

An example of such a step is the proposed Labor Extension Service Bill, which is backed by leaders from every branch of labor. This would provide a modest federal fund, matched in part by the states to provide education in labor problems for union members who ask for it. This, in that off-repeated phrase, is the American way to get harmony in industry.

she unfit to profit from punishment. Quit arguing. Don't talk back; then the girl won't, by and by.

When you make a command make it clearly and calmly. If it is not obeyed promptly apply effective punishment. Don't slap that child's mouth. That is too dangerous.

When you are sure she needs punishment sentence her to sit in a chair when you can see her, without amusement for exactly 50 minutes. Go about your business, but if she moves from the chair before the time has up, seize her and spank her soundly enough so that she hardly will venture to leave the chair too soon again; certainly after two or three such experiences she won't.

The Boy Six

For the boy six make the chair-sentence 25 minutes, for the boy seven, 35 minutes. Hew rigidly to this single mode of punishment. Then you will never have occasion to resort to corporal punishment except when the child deliberately chooses it.

Assign to each child a few definite jobs to be done daily at a regular time. Don't warn, or threaten. Name the reasonable time the job shall be finished. Sentence to the chair for each delinquency. This is so much more humane than jawing; and should bring the desired results. When, however, you request a child to do a special job, let him choose whether to do it or not, just as if he were an adult. But when you make a command make it with finality. My special bulletin, "How to Teach Child to Help at Home" may be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y. Try to find ways of having good times with your children, especially with your daughter. Be very generous with deserving praise.

LOOKING AT LIFE

spin—that is the hobo's philosophy and that is how many of us would like to live, only we haven't got the nerve to do it.

Years ago, when I was a young reporter, I was sent out on a story which made it necessary to live in a California hobo camp for more than a week.

I dressed like a hobo, I talked like a hobo, I was a hobo.

And do you know, I liked it so well that I almost stayed a hobo.

I remember that delicious mulligan, cooked in tin cans over an open fire. I remember those moonlight nights around that fire listening to wonderful adventures lived by those fellows in thousands of miles of unpaid travel.

What a free and easy bunch. What a simple, boiled-down, elemental outlook on life.

They had nothing, they wanted nothing, they had no ambitions and no inhibitions.

Yet they were rich. They owned the sun and the moon and the stars and the trees and the birds—and the whole world—as long as there was a beam to ride on.

Good-bye boys—and don't go to too many museums!

Congress Starts Probe In Charges Of Tax Dodging

WASHINGTON, April 26.—(INS)—Congress plunged today into an investigation of a reported multimillion dollar tax-dodging munitions ring and Frank Costello, reputed New York "slot machine king."

Rep. Maloney (R) Pa., went to his home town of Philadelphia armed with subpoenas to investigate Kensington Shipyards, allegedly a member of a munitions group reportedly headed by the Aerodynamic Research Corp.

Costello, who denied any connection with the alleged munitions combine, was asked by Rep. Bradley (R) Mich., to appear before the House Merchant Marine Committee.

Bradley, committee chairman, invited Costello to appear during the week of May 12. At the same time, he appointed Maloney a one-man sub-committee with full power to investigate Kensington.

PITTSBURGH, April 26.—(INS)—Threat of a strike of 2,500 truck drivers next month faced Pittsburgh businessmen today.

Local 249 of the AFL-Teamsters Union filed a strike notice in Washington yesterday. The strike, if called, will be against the Western Pennsylvania Motor Carriers Association and other trucking firms.

Scott F. Marshall, secretary-treasurer of the union, said a "dispute" exists with the association. He added the union had received no reply to its negotiation overtures.

BEVIN-VISHINSKY ENGAGE IN DUET AT FARLEY'S END

LONDON, April 26.—(INS)—British Foreign Minister Bevin journeyed from the Moscow conference today with the memory of a merry time to speed him along the way.

Reuters said Bevin linked arms with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky and joined him in a comic duet shortly before the British train pulled out from the Belo-Russian station.

WANTED:
Christian Fathers

A great American general, shortly after the war, wrote to a friend: "By profession I am a soldier and take pride in that fact, but I am infinitely prouder to be a father."

"My hope is that my son, when I am gone, will remember me not from the battle, but in the home repeating with him our simple prayer, 'Our Father who art in heaven!'"

What a different world this would be if all fathers would be able to say: "I am a laborer, a truck driver, a banker, a lawyer, a judge, a congressman, but when I am gone I hope my son will remember me only as a father repeating with him our simple prayer, 'Our Father who art in heaven!'"

What the world needs today, above everything else, is a generation of Christian fathers—men who are able to stand in the presence of God through faith in Jesus Christ, their Savior.

Men who have heard, and are determined to heed, the insistent command of God: "Ye fathers, bring up your children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord."

Like father, like son! The son is the mirror of the father. Our current wave of juvenile delinquency is the result of deafness on the part of millions of American fathers to the challenging call of God: "Ye fathers!"

We cannot "take out our religion" in our children's name. We have to have a religion of our own. It will not do to send our children to church and Sunday school. We must bring them. The way to train a child in the way it should go is to go that way yourself!

A Christian father will be in his accustomed place in church every Sunday, and he will have his children with him. He will say with faithful Joshua: "As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord!"

'Skyscraper' Under Construction In New Wilmington

NEW WILMINGTON, April 26.—What promises to be this borough's first "skyscraper" is nearing completion on East Neshannock avenue. The peculiar looking structure is a "batch" cement plant being erected by the Campbell Lumber Co.

Fillmore Campbell, owner of the lumber company, says that the plant is being erected on the site of an old sand bank in order to take advantage of the sand deposit.

A ramp has been built from the Neshannock avenue side so that trucks may drive in and unload the batch ingredients. There is a drop of approximately 45 feet in the rear so that the trucks may drive up the "spout" in order to receive the cement materials.

The structure includes an oil storage department which has been installed.

Work on the "skyscraper" was started two years ago but has been hampered by lack of materials. It is thought another six months will be needed before the plant is in operation.

APES MONKEYS TO BECOME SENSATION OF CIRCUS

THE SECRET OF HIS REMARKABLE IMITATION of a mischievous ape has been revealed by Mark Favetier, French clown, who has become the sensation of the Ringling Bros. circus in Madison Square Garden, New York. As "Natal," a monkey-man, (left) he climbs to the Garden roof using a toe-hold; he frightens a typical human member of the audience (center) while cavorting through the crowd and winds up showing that he's human after all. Favetier, attached to Gen. Giraud's staff during the war, explains that, after watching zoo chimps, he split both feet between the first and second toes to develop his ape-like grip. (International)

Newburyport Merchants Consider Indefinite Continuance Of Reduced Prices

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., April 26.—(INS)—Merchants of Newburyport today considered indefinite continuance of the seaport's 10 percent price cutting plan as other Massachusetts cities and towns prepared to adopt the anti-inflation experiment.

Meanwhile, in Boston, Attorney-General Clarence A. Barnes indicated he will decide Monday whether to order an investigation of the price-cutting plan for possible violation of the State Fair Trade Act.

The act provides fines of $50 on retailers who are found cutting prices on any of the 15 thousand registered items on the grounds that such a move could be considered "unfair competition."

Sales in Newburyport were reported to have increased rapidly since the 10-percent across-the-board slash was inaugurated five days ago.

Other communities which joined the price-cutting parade included Medford, Chelsea, Brockton, Fitchburg, Wintthrop and Hyannis. Similar action was expected in Revere and numerous other towns in the Commonwealth.

Clerk Is Seeking Share Of Fortune

NEW YORK, April 26.—(INS)—Trial of the suit in which Harold Alford Segur, Worcester, Mass., clerk is seeking recognition as the illegitimate son of the late Mabel Seymour Greer and a part of her $500,000 estate was adjourned today until May 5.

Segur, his attorney said, was stricken with a heart attack and has returned to his Worcester home. Physicians said he should be able to testify by May 5.

Erika Segnitz, former German motion picture actress and ex-wife of socially prominent William B. Osgood Field, provided the sensation of the trial yesterday.

She testified that Mrs. Greer had told her in the spring of 1936 that she had had a son "out of wedlock and that his name was Harry." She testified that Mrs. Greer had told her that William B. Segur, prominent Boston physician was the father of the child and that Segur had adopted the boy.

Attlee Is Victim Of 'Pepper Bomb'

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, April 26.—(INS)—British Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee had the reputation today of being as impervious to pepper as Winston Churchill is to invective.

He was showered with a full pound of the stuff, released from a student's "pepper-box bomb," while attacking Churchill as the "most disastrous chancellor of the century" at St. Andrews, Scotland.

The prime minister did not sneeze.

Not All Persons Paroled In State Under Board Rule

HARRISBURG, April 26.—(INS)—The State Parole Board today reacted to criticism of its operation by pointing out that not all persons paroled in Pennsylvania were under its jurisdiction.

"Under the present system in this commonwealth," Chairman H. C. Hill explained, "the Board of Parole is charged with the paroling of convicts sentenced by the criminal courts to county jails, industrial schools or penitentiaries when the maximum sentence is two years or more."

The board pointed out it lacked authority over persons released by managers of semi-private institutions, youths freed by the training school at Morgantown upon recommendation of county judges or the board of trustees and persons sentenced to less than two years in prison whose release on parole is under the jurisdiction of the sentencing judge.

Policy Committee Will Poll G.O.P. Senators On Labor

WASHINGTON, April 26.—(INS)—The Senate Republican Policy committee today ordered a poll of Republican senators on four proposed amendments to stiffen labor legislation.

The group directed Majority Whip Wherry, of Nebraska, to discover Republican sentiment on the amendments as a means of expedition action on the bill.

Senator Taft (R) Ohio, committee spokesman, explained that it would take "too long in debate" if the question were presented to the whole Republican conference.

The policy committee also determined to drive to vote on the labor bill by the end of next week. They agreed to hold a Wednesday night session if it seems necessary to bring the bill to a final vote.

Can UN Halt Future Wars

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 26.—(INS)—Will the U. N. halt wars? Former United States Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts said last night at a Harvard university law school for a debate.

"Since the United Nations is not in any sense a government it offers no security against international war," said Clark Echeiberger, chairman of the Association of the United Nations.

"Despite the rough road ahead, there is no other road to peace except through the United Nations."

Bell Telephone Co. Says Maintenance Strike Ineffective

PHILADELPHIA, April 26.—(INS)—The Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania claimed today that a strike of 6000 maintenance workers which began yesterday has been generally ineffective in the state.

The workers called out yesterday are members of the Pennsylvania Federation of Telephone Workers, an independent union. They joined the nationwide phone tie-up officially after having honored picket lines set up by the striking National Federation of Telephone Workers 20 days ago.

A statement issued by the company said that 76 per cent of all Bell employees reported to their jobs as usual. Forty-two per cent of the company's plant employees disregarded the strike call, according to the statement.

Federal Aid To Schools Bill Is Near Completion

WASHINGTON, April 26.—(INS)—Sen. Aiken (R) Vt., chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Education, said today his group hopes to approve a bill granting federal aid to the nation's schools by June 1.

Aiken said it will be "well along in May or at the latest June 1 before the group can make a report. At the same time, Aiken said he thought it was impossible to omit a clause in the measure which would grant federal aid to non-public schools.

He declared that "so many" states have included non-public schools in their education programs that it would not be advisable to restrict federal aid to public institutions.

New York Brewery Workers To Strike

NEW YORK, April 26.—(INS)—CIO Brewery Workers in New York prepared to go on strike at midnight. Sixteen companies and 6,000 employees are involved. The strike will end 60 years of labor peace in the beer industry in New York.

The U. S. Conciliation Service said an "impasse" had been reached in the negotiations.

Brewers charged the union with failure of negotiations to decide pay boosts and working conditions. The brewers said they had offered pay increases up to 23 cents an hour.

The union has demanded a $22.50 a week raise in base pay, shorter hours and improved working conditions. They claimed the accident rate for brewery workers was 44 percent higher than among the nation's coal miners.

SAFE enough for Baby

AMERICAN babies are probably the most carefully reared children in the world today. Talk to any young mother and you'll find her a walking encyclopedia of information on infant diet, training, health, and clothing. Her motto, naturally, is "nothing but the best for my baby".

THAT'S WHY a mother depends on her city water supply. She knows it's pure—safe enough even for her precious baby.

Y.W.C.A. NOTES

Mother-Daughter Tea

A mother and daughter tea for all junior high school Y-Teen club girls will be held at the Y. W. C. A. on Monday, April 28, at 7:30 p. m. with the J. P. Byers, Elm street, Franklin, Shenango and Washington Y-Teens acting as hostesses to their mothers and also to the Harlansburg Y-Teens, Mahoningtown and Shenango-Taylor girls and their mothers.

Mrs. J. J. McIlvaine will be the speaker, and Franklin and Washington and Elm street clubs will furnish musical numbers for a candlelight service.

The senior Y-Teen department of which Mrs. Glenn Throop is chairman and Miss Jessica Jenkins is co-chairman will be in charge of the tea table.

Tea Is Enjoyed

The tea for senior Y-Teens and their mothers, held at the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday evening was a happy occasion for 190 mothers and daughters who were greeted by Y-Teen hostesses from each club and ushered into the beautifully decorated Y. W. C. A. auditorium which the joint Y-Teen committee had filled with candles and masses of forsythia, pussy-willows and jonquils.

Lovely music by the Union high girls ensemble and the World Fellowship candlelight service gave an appropriate setting to the talk by Mrs. J. J. McIlvaine on Friendliness—Friendliness in the Home and

Church and Club and in the World.

The program closed with two solos by Marie Olson of the Ne-Ca-Hi Y-Teen club. Mrs. C. M. Englund, Y. W. C. A. president, presided. Many mothers remained to visit with Y-Teen advisors and committee members and expressed their pleasure for a very worth while program.

Brother-In-Law Gets Surprise, $12,000 Worth

CHARDON, O., April 26.—(INS)—When Corwin Stockham, 72, of nearby Chester, died recently, his home guaranteed payment of his funeral expenses in the belief the aged man was penniless.

The brother-in-law, Asher Hill, 70, however, received the surprise of his life when he discovered $12,000 in old large bills among Stockham's effects.

Hill turned the money over to the Geauga County Probate Court and was appointed administrator of the estate. Stockham, who worked as a day laborer, was a bachelor and it is believed that Mrs. Hill, his sister, will eventually be awarded the money.

Fifty Miles Of Pipe In Boiler

It requires almost 50 miles of tubing—259,741 feet to be exact—ranging in diameter from 1 1/2 to 4 1/2 inches, for the boiler that is being installed at Pennsylvania Power Company's steam electric generating plant at West Pittsburg.

That's as much tubing as is required in plumbing for 1,800 homes. The new unit, when completed, will add over 50,000 horse power to the company's power generating capacity.

New Law Affects Council Salaries

HARRISBURG, April 26.—(INS)—Pennsylvania today had several new laws including one removing maximum limitation on the salaries of mayors and councilmen of third class cities.

Gov. James H. Duff approved a measure sponsored by Rep. Adam T. Bower (R) Northumberland, lifting the $5,350 a year maximum on mayor's salaries and $4,500 for councilmen.

Another bill approved by Duff makes it discretionary rather than mandatory for courts to abolish wards with less than 350 voters in first class townships.

May Change Date Of State Farm Show

HARRISBURG, April 26.—(INS)—The 1948 state farm show was scheduled today to open at Harrisburg, January 12 and close five days later.

The Farm Show Commission took under advisement a recommendation that the colorful agricultural exposition be held in November after January, approval of the proposal would pave the way for two shows next year.

Secretary Miles Horst, chairman, said a speedy decision would be made on the proposal.

Livestock breeders supported November meetings because prize animals were in better show condition. Farmers and fruit growers backed January sessions because they would be hard pressed to prepare for fall shows after harvest.

The commission-elected Horst chairman and elevated Assistant Secretary H. R. McCulloch, of State College, to secretary succeeding J. M. Fry, of State College who resigned after serving two decades. Fry is director of agricultural extension at Pennsylvania State College.

Deputy Secretary of Agriculture W. S. Hagar was re-elected treasurer of the commission.

New York City had its first fireboat in 1890. It was called "Floating Engine" and was a powerful hand-operated pump mounted on a scow. The vessel had hose, hooks and pipes and was manned by 12 tarsmen who responded to alarms with other members of the fire department.

Captain Fred Palmer And His Elks Face Cream Of Amateurs In Opening Match

EXPECT CROWD TO SEE GOLF STARS

New Castle Country Club golf course will be the mecca for golf players and followers Sunday afternoon when the Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio Amateur Golf league will tee-off on the 1947 schedule at 12 o'clock noon, with 30 of the finest golfers in this section of the country taking part.

Palmer Names Team
Captain Palmer today named the following well-known local links stars to compose the Elks team Sunday: Teddy Lach, Herman Green, Sterling "Stinger" McKee, Ed Smith Jr., and Ezz Palmer. The two alternates are Jimmy Dart and Bill Watters.

In the New Castle team are three former country club champions, Green, McKee and Smith, plus Teddy Lach, a sensational Public Links golfer, plus Fred and Ezz Palmer, both stellar stars of the links.

Galaxy Of Stars
Following are the district golf stars who will play here tomorrow: Youngstown Stamboughs (1944 champions), Dr. Frank (Chips) Bellino, Jimmy Lucarelli, Steve P. Kelly, Andy Santor, William Santor, "Bogus" Caldron, and Tom Jones Jr.; Warren Avalons, George Timko, Andy Greer, Steve Horney, Vic Subonis, Lou Babola, Pete Kostyko, Alec Tereba, and Peter Prokop; Mahoning Country club, Joe Battifano, Larry Carey, Johnny Miladore, Carl Menelle, Gus Kovach, Victor Leskosky, Frank Kovach, and Pat Miladore; Sharon Tom O'Shanter, George Bebie, captain, Johnny Lucas, George Lucas, Joe Martin, Tom Malia, Tony Mihlak, Tony Harmon.

Tigers First To Enter Tourney

Johnson Bronze Team Automatically Enters By Being Host Team In NBC Tourney

Ralph H. Gardner, deputy commissioner for the National Baseball Congress tourney slated for Johnson field starting June 13, through June 22, announced today that the West Side Tigers of this city are the first to enter the district tourney. Manager Len Gilbert of the Tigers has made formal application, Gardner stated.

The Johnson Bronze team being the host team is automatically in the tourney, making two teams positive of entering. An inquiry from Ridgway was received recently and they expect to enter.

Seek 16 Teams
Gardner is desirous of having at least 16 strong teams in the tourney. Any semi-pro or sandlot team in northwestern Pennsylvania is eligible to enter from Lawrence, Butler, Beaver, Venango, Mercer, Erie, Crawford and other counties in this area.

The winner of the district tourney will qualify for the state NBC championship tourney which will also be held here at the Johnson Bronze field in July.

Field Shaping Up
The new Johnson Bronze baseball project in the Croton district is taking shape rapidly. Grading has been done and grass seed is being sown. In all probability the lights standards will be placed starting Monday, Gardner announced. The holes for the lights have been completed. The corrugated iron canopy and one can see where snakes would find many places to hibernate. It is not unusual during harvest time for blacksnakes, also garters, to be picked up with a pitch fork and thrown atop a hay wagon, to be kicked off, grabbed by a dog and their necks broken. However, while some believe the snake is malignant and some species are considerable valuable to farmers (some of whom will not allow their killing on their farm), most people have an abhorrence of them, and they are unwelcome "guests" around a picnic dinner held at some green plot along a creek.

One of those who has come in contact with snakes of various kinds is Jim Hodge, former Pulaski resident now of Harlansburg. The outdoorsman who is about 70, recalled that when he was a boy he heard of people cutting down a tree, because blacksnakes stretched on limbs dropped into buggies, traveling beneath. Last spring he shot two large blacksnakes which were sunning themselves on a Harlansburg tree. During the war when Scotty Gregg and Griff Phillips were watchmen at the abandoned NYA Center, later Deshon annex, Gregg discovered and killed a snake in a pile of lumber. He swears to this day it was a Rattler which must have come from the ledges of rock over the hill. He kept the snake hanging on a wire fence for days to be viewed by all who cared to see it. Copperheads are to be found along the Big Sandy creek in Franklin vicinity, according to fishermen, and one exercises caution while traveling along the rocky embankments of the Neshannock above Volant. They may be no Rattlers or Copperheads there, but one glance at the topography and one can see where snakes would find many places to hibernate. It is not unusual during harvest time for blacksnakes, also garters, to be picked up with a pitch fork and thrown atop a hay wagon, to be kicked off, grabbed by a dog and their necks broken. However, while some believe the snake is malignant and some species are considerable valuable to farmers (some of whom will not allow their killing on their farm), most people have an abhorrence of them, and they are unwelcome "guests" around a picnic dinner held at some green plot along a creek.

Boston Red Sox Falling Apart

Drop To Athletics 11 To 7, White Sox Tie For First Place, Indians Scalped

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Writer

NEW YORK, April 26.—Boston's floundering Red Sox seem to be still suffering from the bad case of jitters which they developed during the world series last fall.

According to the consensus of pre-season predictions, the Sox were supposed to be making a runaway of the American League race by this time. But here they are, barely managing to stay in the first division.

Red Sox Blow
Yesterday the Sox made three errors, blew a five-run lead and looked far from champions in losing to the tail-end Philadelphia Athletics, 11 to 7. The A's won the game in the ninth with a five-run rally climaxed by Hank Majeski's double.

While Boston was flopping to fourth place, Chicago's White Sox were vaulting to a first-place tie with the idle New York Yankees by defeating Cleveland, 3 to 2. Frank Pappas saved the game for the Pale Hose with some fancy relief pitching in the ninth.

Newhouse Vs Feller
Detroit nosed out the St. Louis Browns, 6 to 5, in a wild game during which most of the dynamite exploded in the eighth inning. Jerry White, rookie first baseman, put the Browns in front with a three-run homer. Then the Tigers came back with a four-run rally featured by Dick Wakefield's homer.

Other teams were rained out as double-headers continued to pile up.

Today's feature will be the long-awaited mound duel between Bob Feller and Hal Newhouse, when the Indians and Tigers clash at Cleveland.

Red Sox Give Rookie Hurler $17,000 Bonus

TEANECK, N. J., April 26.—(INS)—The father of 18-year-old Rollin Schuster disclosed today that his son had received $17,000 for signing with the Boston Red Sox.

The young right-handed pitching star owns an impressive high school and semi-pro record around New Jersey. In 67 innings on the mound for Teaneck high school baseball team last year he struck out 132 batters or a fraction below two strikeouts an inning.

His accomplishments in a fast semi-pro league were equally good. He had an over-all record of seven wins and one loss against teams composed of former major and minor league stars. In one game, while pitching for the Madison Colonels, a Jersey outfit, he struck out 16 batters.

Schuster at present is a freshman at Colgate university. He was scheduled to report to the Red Sox spring training in March, but was given permission to complete his semester. He will report to the Louisville Colonels, Red Sox AAA farm team in the American Association, around June 15.

OF ALL Mother Nature's "children", the snake is probably the most maligned in the world. Practically everybody has a horror of the reptile. Of course, there are poisonous snakes, hereabouts. They are the Rattler and the Copperhead. No one has seen a poisonous water-snake north of the Mason-Dixon line, nor has there been a wild coral snake found in this district. Occasionally a snake will strike in defense, poisonous or non-poisonous. This happens when someone walking through the woods, steps across a log and nearly treads upon a snake stretched out on the sunny side of the log, where it is sheltered from the wind, according to Charles Leith. Common garter-snakes are non-poisonous. So are blacksnakes. Small green snakes, called "grass" snakes and also the "milk" snakes are harmless and are valuable adjuncts in the garden or farm. The first warm days of spring bring snakes from their rock crevices. They are cold-blooded, and for weeks, stay close to their place of hibernation where they spend chilly nights and periods of unseasonable weather. Pennsylvania's game warden kill large blacksnakes when they are found in the woods due to their feeding on game birds as well as song-birds and on the eggs and young of game. Large blacksnakes generally inhabit trees in the early spring where they forage for small birds and rob nests and eat nestlings. Most snakes live on insect life. The water-snake feeds on all forms of aquatic life and are the bane of state fish hatcheries. One of them loose in a pond of young fish will devour hundreds. Water-snakes of this state are not the same breed as the southern moccasin, or "cotton mouth". The southern snake of a different species is a deadly creature whose bite frequently proves fatal. Our water-snake belongs to the non-venomous type.

One of those who has come in contact with snakes of various kinds is Jim Hodge, former Pulaski resident now of Harlansburg. The outdoorsman who is about 70, recalled that when he was a boy he heard of people cutting down a tree, because blacksnakes stretched on limbs dropped into buggies, traveling beneath. Last spring he shot two large blacksnakes which were sunning themselves on a Harlansburg tree. During the war when Scotty Gregg and Griff Phillips were watchmen at the abandoned NYA Center, later Deshon annex, Gregg discovered and killed a snake in a pile of lumber. He swears to this day it was a Rattler which must have come from the ledges of rock over the hill. He kept the snake hanging on a wire fence for days to be viewed by all who cared to see it. Copperheads are to be found along the Big Sandy creek in Franklin vicinity, according to fishermen, and one exercises caution while traveling along the rocky embankments of the Neshannock above Volant. They may be no Rattlers or Copperheads there, but one glance at the topography and one can see where snakes would find many places to hibernate. It is not unusual during harvest time for blacksnakes, also garters, to be picked up with a pitch fork and thrown atop a hay wagon, to be kicked off, grabbed by a dog and their necks broken. However, while some believe the snake is malignant and some species are considerable valuable to farmers (some of whom will not allow their killing on their farm), most people have an abhorrence of them, and they are unwelcome "guests" around a picnic dinner held at some green plot along a creek.

NEW YORK, April 26.—That one-hitter which Bob Feller pitched on Tuesday against the St. Louis Browns was perhaps the best performance in the major league career of the Cleveland speed ball specialist.

In breaking his own record with this ninth one-hitter, he came within a single by Al Zarilla of making it his third no-hitter, and through it all he walked only one man.

In his previous super-efforts he has shown a tendency to throw the ball every which way and has walked as many as nine men in his one-hitters. In 1940 and 1946, he walked eight men in one of the games and five in the other.

Hit Bad Pitch
That single by Zarilla in the seventh and a base on balls issued to Jack Moss in the ninth were the only incidents that stood between Feller and a perfectly pitched ball game. St. Louis had only those two men left on base.

What's more, the ball Zarilla nudged for a single was a change of pace ball that would have been called a ball if he had not reached out and placed it cleanly in center field.

Bears Out Statement
All of which seems to bear out what Feller said during spring training last year, when he was getting ready for his first full season since returning from active duty with the Navy.

Sitting in the shade of a big tree one day, he said he thought he would be as good as ever and married a little better because of a good curve ball to go with his fast one.

At the time many were saying that he had lost his speed and would never attain his prewar peak again.

Seeks 20 Wins
His reply last season was a no-hitter against the New York Yankees and one-hitters against the Boston Red Sox and Chicago White Sox. He broke the old strikeout record for a season and finished up with 26 victories. Pretty fair going for a guy that was washed up.

His aim for this season is 30 wins, and he has about a 50-50 chance to achieve it and further prove his right to his place as the biggest money-maker in the majors.

Around the league they insist that when he rars back and lets fly at full tilt his fast ball is getting tough all the time.

Barnhart Goes To Indianapolis
PITTSBURGH, April 26.—(INS)—Vic Barnhart, son of the famous Clyde Barnhart of two decades ago, today was released on 24-hour option by the Pittsburgh Pirates to their Indianapolis farm club in the American Association.

Barnhart played third base and shortstop for Albany, N. Y., last year, and was brought up by the Pirates for the training season this year.

His release cuts the active Pirate squad to 31 players.

There are a dozen Pitt grid candidates who are not practicing this spring. Coach Mike Milligan has barred the gates to them until their scholastic work is up to standard.

Brothers, Bradley Medwick On Card

Three Local Amateur Boxers To Fight In The Arena Wednesday Night

FIGHT CALENDAR

Elkins Brothers, New Castle vs. Rizler, Ronzi, Youngstown, 135.
Bill Bradley, New Castle, vs. Nelson Taylor, Youngstown, 160.
Babe Medwick, New Castle, vs. Johnny Randall, Youngstown, 175.
Tony Zanish, Sharon, vs. Charlie Pastovich, Youngstown, 160.
Derby Brennan, Sharon, vs. Elbe Jones, Youngstown, 126.
Tommy DeSantis, Sharon, vs. Sylvester Grant, Youngstown, 112.
Jimmy Zeka, Sharon, vs. Leonard Poly, Youngstown, 160.
Tommy Dye, Youngstown, vs. Jimmy Benetti, Youngstown, 138.

When 16 amateurs meet next Wednesday night there'll be a local flavor to the matches, three New Castle pugilists having been matched with Youngstown scrappers. They are Elkins Brothers, Bill Bradley and Babe Medwick.

Elkins is slated to take on rugged Rizler, Ronzi while Bradley, who laid off to give his nose time to heal, battles Nelson Taylor, and Babe Medwick slugs with Johnny Randall.

In addition to the three local fighters, Tony Zanish, a twice-winner here, will battle Charlie Pastoch who won a split decision from Johnny Toth, the Alliquippa slugger some weeks ago.

Among the other four bouts on the card will be a repeat number between Tommy Dye and Jimmy Benetti, both 138, of Youngstown. They fought a humorous fight recently at the local Elks club.

The return of Bradley to the ring will be watched with interest. His last go was against Mike Komolo, Dapper Dan middleweight winner, and who went far in the national amateur boxing tournament.

According to reports from Pittsburgh where Bradley and Mike battled, Bradley twice staggered and had Komolo going when he received a butt which cut an eye, which forced an eye which forced the referee to stop the bout.

Wednesday night's card is one of the best looking amateur affairs arranged for this city in some time and because of the local flavor, it is anticipated there'll be a capacity crowd at the fights.

Titan Trackers Hard At Work

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., April 26.—With the track opener still a week away, Coach Harold Burry is working hard to find good middle distance men and hurdlers for West-minster's May 3 meet with Geneva College at Beaver Falls.

Fairly certain of the makeup of his field men, Burry has his hands full between instilling confidence in the inexperienced runners and combating the poor weather. This week's drills will be given over in the main to finding a suitable man for the half mile run.

Len Harding, who seems fairly certain to be a constant threat in the 440, and Bob Hall, distance runner, have both given the half mile a whirl, but neither find it to their liking.

Ike Williams Wins Battle At Columbus

COLUMBUS, O., April 26.—(INS)—Columbus fans were convinced today that N. B. A. lightweight king Ike Williams is a worthy champion. Williams punched out a ten-round decision over hometown favorite Willie Russell last night. The non-title scrap drew 4,100 fans and a $16,500 gate.

Fitch Kayeod
The champion scored a clear-cut victory. There were no knockdowns. Williams will meet Ralph Zaneili of Providence, R. I., next Friday at Boston.

In the semifinal, Ohio State University pre-med student Pat Richards scored a five-round TKO over Norman Fitch of East Liverpool.

Titan Golfers Meet Teachers

Friday Match At Country Club Course With Tech Cancelled By Rain

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., April 26.—Friday's scheduled golf match with Carnegie Tech was postponed by rain, so the Titans spring sport program will get under way when the golfers entertain a strong Slippery Rock squad at the New Castle Country Club this afternoon.

Rain forced the cancellation of what was to have been the first match on the long 14 match schedule. Titan coach Bill Thomas called Tech's Buddy Overend and it was agreed to delay the match. No new date was set.

For the Slippery Rock engagement today Coach Thomas will probably rely on Evans City's Jim Salsgiver in the number one spot. Salsgiver consistently fine shooting earned him the slot over Sharon's gift, Bill Burke.

Dr. Thomas will fill out the squad from six other linksmen.

Optimist Club To Banquet All-Stars

The New Castle Optimist club at their regular Thursday, May 1, dinner at the Castleton at 6:30 o'clock will have the following all-star basketball players and others as their guests: Donnie Watters, Chink Dutkin, Billy Andrews, Eddie Koszela, Ken Cathcart, John Zubkowski, Joey Cooper, Gene Wilson, Lou Kreuger, Eddie Wenda, Bill Douglas, Robert Mills, Robert Stewart and "Bugs" Walther.

The dinner is in appreciation for the efforts put forth for the recent Optimist All-Stars and Westminster basketball game at the Arena.

Pirates Headed For Attendance Mark This Year

Reveal 100,881 Fans Have Seen Pirates In Three Home Games So Far

By JIMMY JORDAN
(International News Service Writer)

PITTSBURGH, April 26.—One robin doesn't necessarily make a spring, and one home series by a baseball team doesn't mean much.

But if it does, the Pittsburgh Pirates today appeared launched on the most successful season in their history—from a turnstile count standpoint.

No other Pirate team, not even the great clubs in the decade following the turn of the century, ever captured the imagination of the fans as have the new deal Buccos, Hank Greenberg, et al.

Fans Going Crazy
The fans showed that when 100,881 of them flocked into rebuilt Forbes Field to see four games with the Cincinnati Reds in three days, and to watch the two teams lay down a barrage of 11 home runs, three triples and 17 doubles in the four games.

They showed it again last Sunday, when an hour and a half after the second game of the doubleheader had been called by darkness, long lines still edged toward ticket windows to buy seats for the series with the Chicago Cubs opening Thursday.

The attendance record that seems certain to fall was 869,720, set in 1927, the last year the Pirates won the National League flag.

Already about 12 per cent of that figure has been reached. And there are 73 more games to play at home—including 21 night games and nine Sunday doubleheaders.

Senators Need Shortstop And Another Catcher

Washington Not Pennant
Contender This Year By Any Means, Too
Many Holes

By BILL UMSTEAD
(International News Service Sports Writer)

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The Washington Senators may wage a strong fight for second or third place in the American League standings this year.

The Senators, their starting lineup changed little from last year, don't figure to capture the league flag, and they may not even make first division unless somebody plugs that hole at shortstop. They recently acquired Mark Christman from St. Louis to hold that job.

Outside of shortstop and some weakness behind the plate, the Washington Club appears to be slightly better than the team that finished up in fourth place in 1946.

Hurlers Look Good
The pitching staff, headed by Early Wynn, the ancient Buck Newsom, Mickey Haefner, and Sid Hudson, looks good. Behind this starting quartet, Manager Ossie Bluege has Walt Masterson, Marino Pieretti, and rookie southpaw Scott Carey, who won 26 games for Orlando last year.

Luther Knerr, big right-hander acquired from Philadelphia during the winter, and Tom Ferrell, formerly of St. Louis and Cleveland, are counted on to give the Nats much-needed relief pitching strength.

Washington could present one of the junior circuit's best infields, if Christman stands up. Batting Champion Mickey Vernon is back at first base, the dependable Gerry Priddy will hold down second, and the veteran Cecil Travis occupies the hot corner.

Strong Outfield
In the outfield, the Senators can keep pace with any team. The starting trio will be George Case, Stan Spence, and Buddy Lewis with Joe Grace in reserve.

Reports indicate that Case, brought back from Cleveland after a poor year, and Lewis, who hit .292 in 1946, may be heading for the best seasons of their career at the plate.

Spence has always been a steady, dependable performer in centerfield and Grace is expected to give Case a tough battle for the left field position.

Need Good Catcher
While he's trying to get a shortstop, Griffith also is keeping an eye open for a hard-hitting catcher. The Senators' catching situation is so deplorable that 38-year-old Rick Ferrell has been put back on the active player list after serving as a coach.

Ferrell will divide the catching duties with Al Evans, a Washington veteran, and Frank Mancuso, who was obtained from St. Louis. None of the trio packs any punch at the plate to speak of.

The Senators probably will be a fast club with Case, Myatt, and Vernon providing the speed on the base paths. But, without that new shortstop, they're going to be lucky to hold onto fourth place in the league.

Eddie Arcaro Great Jockey

Arcaro Not Flashy, Like
Great Tod Sloan Of Years
Ago, But Can Ride
Winners

By BILL CORUM
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, April 26.—Born 50 years sooner, Eddie Arcaro would have been a fellow of world wide fame. A pal of kings, his favor fought for by princes, potentates and money barons, he would have been a toast of two continents.

Sloan Was Great
Nor would Eddie fit badly into the buttoned patent-leather shoes of the Gay Sloan of the gay 90's, or the first man's fur coat ever seen on Broadway. Which Sloan brought home from Europe once. And which he wore when he wasn't hanging it over the bony backs of dray-horses on cold nights, or wrapping new-born kittens in it, while he dashed on foot to the Metropole to get hot milk to feed 'em out of an eye-dropper.

There is a thing that people who love growing things call "a green hand". There are also individuals who have that same sure touch with animals. Sloan had it. The late Jack Doyle used to tell me stories by the hour of how Tod, seeing a horse down on an icy street, would push his way through the crowd, loosen a piece of harness here and another there and have the frightened animal on his feet in a jiffy. Or how he could walk into the stall of the meanest man-killer and come out in a few minutes leading the horse by its mane.

Good At Finish
I have never known Arcaro to perform any such tricks. But I have seen him make many a horse look mighty pretty in a camera-finish.

"Don't get beat no noses", Eddie outlined his creed for race riding to Hambra Bauer in a recent magazine article. He does get beat some noses, of course. After all, the nose in the picture is the horse's, not the jockey's. But the odds are with him in those close ones.

Headstones To Be Erected Soon

Conference At Court House May Result In Placing Of Stones By May 30

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

Following a conference between the county commissioners and representatives of monument companies Friday, there appeared to be hope that the bottle neck in headstones for soldiers' and sailors' graves would be removed and the headstones placed before Memorial Day.

The commissioners asked the representatives to come in for the purpose of seeing whether or not the graves of 51 ex-service men could have headstones placed upon them before Memorial Day.

Representatives of granite memorial companies said it had been most difficult to get headstones the size specified by the state because of labor shortages and other difficulties. There are 20 graves upon which granite markers are wanted. Three companies finally agreed to take the order for the twenty and each representative said he thought the jobs could be done before Memorial Day.

Thirty-one graves will have bronze markers placed upon them and the representative of a bronze marker company said he had the materials now and the work would be done providing there were no delays.

Under the state law the county pays $50 for or toward a marker for a service man or woman's grave. Some orders were placed over a year ago but due to shortages, the orders have not been filled.

PREVENTION BEST CURE FOR PEACHES

Blush and beauty which command a second look, and top price on the peach market, can be achieved through practice of the old adage that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

For prevention of brown rot of peaches, which can turn rosy prospects to grief about market time, remove from trees all peach mummies and destroy them.

Peach mummies on the ground will shoot spores during rain periods if left undisturbed, but not if the ground is cultivated before pink blossoms show on the trees.

To prevent blossom blight, apply wettable sulphur sprays when the blossoms are full pink.

Garden Notes

To protect cabbages, tomatoes, peppers and eggplant against cutworms, wrap a paper collar around the stems of these plants when set out. Use thin cardboard or several thicknesses of newspaper, a few inches above and an inch below soil level.

The compost pile is the most practical and the least expensive way to supply the garden with humus, so plan to build one this year for your garden's benefit.

Broccoli is easier to grow than cauliflower and it will supply you all summer and into the fall. Six plants of the branching type will supply a small family.

Out of the ordinary vegetables, such as okra, celtnce and fennel, are recommended for the small garden. They need not be grown in quantities, but they do afford quality.

Trees and shrubs can still be planted in May if they have not developed too much leaf growth.

Dig a little hydrated lime in around cabbages, but do not injure the roots in applying it. Cabbages dislike the slightest acidity.

Archaeologists have discovered evidence that decorative glass bottles were in use in Egypt more than 4,000 years ago.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, April 26.—(INS)—The Paul Henreids are throwing a big party May 5 for the fourth birthday of their daughter, Monica. But, they're not taking any chances on the small-fry tearing the place apart.

They've engaged the La Cienega playground, with merry-go-round, ferris wheels and every other form of entertainment for the afternoon.

Seventy youngsters from Hollywood's glamour families are being invited. Paul will finish M-G-M's "Song of Love" next week so he'll be there to play master of ceremonies.

Pulse-raiser Lana Turner will be a blonde again when she starts the role of Jinny in "Cass Timberlane" Monday. To be exact, she'll be in "Honey Blonde" several shades off the platinum tresses she wore in "The Postman Always Rings Twice".

Lana turned brunette in "Green Dolphin Street", which you won't see till fall. It should be noted that her co-star, Spencer Tracy, will wear his own hair in the picture, tousled brown faintly streaked with gray.

Tyrone Power also starts a new picture Monday, "Nightmare Alley", for Darryl Zanuck, the toughest role this handsome gent ever has portrayed. A Paramount star who reports back before the camera next week is Betty Hutton, who's been using her spare time taking golf lessons from Ginger Rogers.

Seymour Nebenzal is so pleased with the work of Maria Montez and Pierre Aumont he's signed them each with a picture a year for three years. They get $100,000 each plus a percentage of the profits. Maria pointed out that Uncle Sam will get a heck of a lot more from it than they will.

That terrific looker Karen Booth, is back from her first visit to New York City and thrilled to pieces by Gotham's bigness. Your reporter was born there and she can have it! Karen was born in Minneapolis, but grew up in Portland, Ore. She saw eight plays in seven days, but she got her biggest kick in one look from the top of the Empire State building. You'll be seeing Karen dancing with Cyd Charisse in "The Unfinished Dance".

Roy Rodgers will take his thrill circus to New York City June 15 for the world premiere. It'll also play in Columbus, Indianapolis, Louisville, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh.

Dan Crowley, Detroit Tigers scout, saw Actor Cameron Mitchell pitch the Culver-Palms team to a victory over Pasadena last Sunday and offered him a contract to play with their No. 1 farm club, Buffalo. The letter said Crowley thought Cam would be ready for the big leagues in a year. Cam remains an actor.

YOUNGSTOWN STEEL WORKERS GET RAISE

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 26.—(INS)—The Youngstown Sheet & Tube company today announced it had reached an agreement with the CIO-United Steelworkers calling for a wage increase of 12½ cents an hour.

The pay hike is retroactive to April 1, the company said.

Former Residents Experience Unusual Event On Same Day

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Waddington of New Brighton, former residents of New Castle, experienced an unusual event in their family on Tuesday when they became grandparents and great-grandparents on the same day.

The unusual fact of the story is that the two grandchildren that were born were both daughters, the first girls born in the family in 25 years.

Mrs. John Jenkins of this city, the Waddington's granddaughter, gave birth to a daughter, Janet Lynn, in the Jameson Memorial hospital on Tuesday, while on the same day, a daughter was born to the Waddington's son and wife, Staff Sgt. and Mrs. Chester Waddington, in the hospital at MacDill, Fla.

Mr. Waddington is the cousin of Mrs. W. S. Collins, 411 Epworth street.

CITES FLOOD DAMAGE

PITTSBURGH, April 26.—(INS)—Col. W. E. Lorence, chief of the army engineers in the Pittsburgh district, today said damage of $1,500,000 was caused by flash floods that struck western Pennsylvania three weeks ago.

Bradford was hardest hit by the floods, he said, with damage estimated at $1,200,000 to $1,750,000 in that city alone. Meadville, Warren and Irvine also were heavy sufferers.

Chlorine, a derivative of salt, is used both as a poison gas in warfare and as a purifier for water.
